Introduction

HGSA Policy on surveys of the membership

HGSA receives a number of requests from researchers to survey the membership each year. People who wish to have access to the Society’s membership for research purposes should meet the following requirements:

The investigator or his/her supervisor should be a member of the HGSA or an equivalent national or international organisation.

The investigator shall provide a 1 page document (an invitation to participate) that:
- summarises the aims, objectives and methodology of the study,
- references the HREC approval number of the study,
- provides information on how HGSA members can become involved, and
- gives an estimate of the time taken for any involvement.

A link to the invitation document can then be provided through the Society’s Newsletter.
